TWO NEW CUMBERLAND BANKERS INDICTED

BRANDONS FACE 14 COUNTS IN CRASH; ARRESTS ARE PROMISED

Larceny and Embezzlement Charged by Grand Jury.
ACCUSED MISSING
True Bills Based on Disappearance of Bonds.

NEW CUMBERLAND, W. Va., March 19.—Fourteen indictments charging larceny and embezzlement were returned by the Hancock county grand jury yesterday afternoon against John A. Brandon, president, and James E. Brandon, Jr., assistant cashier of the defunct First National bank here. Twelve of the indictments were against John A. Brandon and two against James E. Brandon.

Released Under Bond.
Warrants for the arrest of the two Brandons were issued by the court. According to Prosecuting Attorney Thomas Hoffman they left New Cumberland the day the bank was closed and never returned. For a while they lived in Steubenville, but finally left there and have never been heard from since.

Face Federal Charges.
The Brandons are under heavy bonds pending action of the federal grand jury at Wheeling. The Brandon family had operated the bank for forty years prior to the closing of the institution last November.
Charges brought by the grand jury today are based on the alleged disappearance of $3,000 worth of Liberty bonds owned by Mrs. Eliza Porter of New Cumberland; $4,500 in bonds owned by Mrs. Laura Watson of Newell; $7,500 worth of county bonds owned by several individuals; $3,500 worth of bonds owned by H. M. Gram; $2,500 belonging to the New Cumberland lodge No. 22, A. F. & A. Masons, and other allegations.

Birds, Elevators, Stocks.

$34,000,000 for Freight.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

A seat on the New York Stock exchange has been sold for $320,000. At that price the eleven hundred seats on the stock exchange are worth $352,000,000. Last Saturday stocks were sold at the rate of 1,000,000 shares an hour, and, in spite of time-saving devices, the ticker was twenty-five minutes behind the speculators.

There are ups and downs in birds, elevators and stocks, but be careful how you bet on the "down" side in stocks, when wages and spending ability in a country move up fifty to seventy-five per cent and manufacturers can make thirty-three men do the work of a hundred. Selling short in America isn't a safe pastime.

Ask some of the bears. You say, "Some things are too high." Certainly, some things are always too high. But some of them that are too high will go higher. There is one stock now well above $400 a share, but not too high, that will go some day to heights that will make the owners dizzy.

Lloyd George takes seriously the "holy war" started by Mohammedans against British rule or domination in Asia and Africa. Lloyd George says it is interesting to reflect "that this trouble has arisen in two countries which were powerfully and highly civilized empires at a time when even the existence of Great Britain was scarcely known."

If Mohammedans have made up their minds to exterminate heretics and infidels, meaning Europeans, that will mean trouble for the British, of course. But since the great empires of Asia and Africa have faded away, British gentlemen, that used to hide in swamps and paint their stomachs blue with wood, have learned to fly, distributing poison gas and annoying explosives. Those will play a part in calming the holy war. A holy war is (Continued on Page Eight, Col. Six)

COUNCIL VOTES PENN AVENUE SURFACING JOB

Resolution Approved, 6 to 1; Green Opposes.

PLAN DEBATED East End Man Urges Cost Go on Tax Duplicate.

Despite opposition on the part of Councilman Edward L. Green, city council last night approved legislation calling for the improvement of Pennsylvania avenue from Maple street to the Dry Run bridge.

The resolution, passed on three readings, under suspension of the rules by a vote of 6 to 1, calls for a brick surfacing on a concrete base. The measure, as prepared by Solicitor Frank Hoover, provided for either brick or concrete, but the concrete specifications were stricken out after Councilman Fleming declared that property holders had expressed a preference for brick on concrete.

William Hocking, a property owner in the street, protested, asserting the resurfacing would depreciate the value of property facing the street. The cost of the improvement, if approved, should go on the general tax duplicate instead of being charged to the property holders, he said.

Order Water Works Supplies.
Councilman Green declared that he was not opposed to any public improvement but the property owners should be canvassed to determine if the improvement is wanted. "If the residents of the street are opposed to the improvement, people of the down town district should not force it upon them," Green said.

Solon Huchins said that the people of East End had been urging this improvement for two years but sought to have the state and the county share the expense. President Hayes declared that the county commissioners on two occasions had flatly refused to contribute to the rebuilding of the street.

Councilmen Lindell, Poole, Hughes, Fleming, Altman and Ferguson supported the measure, while Solon Green voted against it.

ROY STACEY GETS PRISON SENTENCE

Roy Stacey, 18, East Liverpool, was sentenced to four years and six months in the West Virginia state penitentiary at Moundsville, early this afternoon after he entered a plea of guilty to an indictment charging him with breaking and entering before Judge J. H. Brennan at New Cumberland. The youth was charged with having looted the Rubenstein grocery and the Tim Robinson news stand, Newell, last December.

Ray Stacey, a brother, and Jacob Cline, who are also charged with the same offense, will face the court next Friday.

WINLANDS PLAN ERECTION OF LARGE GARAGE BUILDING HERE

Minerva-Walnut Street Site to be Used.

RAZE DWELLINGS Second Floor May be Arranged for Basketball.

The Windland Brothers' Lumber company, Bradshaw avenue contractors, today announced plans for a fireproof brick and concrete garage and storage building to occupy a site at the corner of Minerva and Walnut streets, adjoining the structure erected in Minerva street about two years ago.

The company also may convert the second floor of the building occupied by the M. E. Eppley Motor Sales company into an auditorium and basketball court. Second floor of the proposed structure probably will be arranged for apartments.

Two dwellings, one a combination brick and frame building and the other a two-family structure, facing Walnut street, are to be razed to make room for the building which will be approximately 160 feet long in Minerva street and about 100 feet deep in Walnut street. It will match the present building in material and architecture. The approximate cost of the improvement will be $40,000.

Tenant for Proposed Building.
The present structure is occupied by Eppley company, the window glass department of the Windland company, M. E. Grumet banana dealer, and an oil company.

Occupants of the dwelling have been given a 10-day notice to vacate the property. Work on razing the building will be started probably next week. Excavating for the new building will begin as soon as the site has been cleared.

Two Presidents, Cabinet Officers and White House Candidates Drawn Into Oil Scandal Quiz

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
WASHINGTON, March 20.—Two presidents of the United States, numerous cabinet officers, past and present, and several presidential candidates were drawn into the vortex of the Teapot Dome case today as a result of the senate's inquiry into the financial aid given the Republican party by Harry F. Sinclair.

Spectacular developments in the sensational case were predicted on all sides. Democratic spokesmen announced they would not allow the American people to forget that Sinclair "corrupted" a Republican administration to secure Teapot Dome and then contributed huge sums to that party when his alleged corruption was threatened with exposure. The Republicans were ready to fight back, by seeking to link prominent Democrats with the same oil interests.

SELECT SCHOOL ORATOR AMONG FIVE TONIGHT

Contest Will be Held in High Auditorium.

NO ADMISSION Winner Will Enter District Event April 13.

East Liverpool's representative in the national oratorical contest sponsored in southern Columbiana county by the East Liverpool Review, will be selected at the high school auditorium at 7:45 o'clock tonight.

Five contestants—members of the senior class—will take part in the school finals. These students, selected from the 47 original entrants in the tournament, are: Lloyd Babb, Miss Mollie Brand, Wayne Davison, Miss Marjorie Hall and Miss Mae E. Joseph.

The high school orchestra will present a half-hour program before the contest. The order in which the orators will appear will be determined this afternoon. Judges will not be announced until tonight. Admission is free and the public is invited.

HOPWOOD FUNERAL RITES WEDNESDAY

CLEVELAND, March 20.—Funeral services for Eric C. Hopwood, Plain Dealer editor, who died here Sunday night, will be held in the home at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It was announced today.

Life-long friends and associates will act as pallbearers and honorary pallbearers. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

ELKS WILL HEAR BLAKE C. COOK

Substituting for Fred H. Lahmer, Akron attorney, who late yesterday advised his inability to attend, Blake C. Cook, Kent, past president of the Ohio State Elks' association will be one of the speakers at the anniversary celebration of East Liverpool Lodge No. 258, B. P. O. Elks, Thursday night. Cook will share speaking honors with Rev. John L. Maurer, pastor of the St. Ann's Catholic church.

Democrats Under Fire
The Democrats were under fire on two subjects—one being the charge that Governor Smith had taken Sinclair donations in his 1920 gubernatorial campaign, and the other, being the party's acceptance of a large contribution recently from Thomas Fortune Ryan, the New York capitalist. Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana, demanded that Smith be subpoenaed as a witness in the Teapot Dome case, while Senator Nye, (R) of North Dakota, pointed out that the Democrats at the 1912 convention adopted a resolution that no federal aid should be given to any party.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW MANSE IN BOULEVARD

Emmanuel Presbyterian Chapel Plans $42,000 Structure.

BRICK BUILDING

Winland Brothers Will Rush Work During Summer.

Contract for the erection of a modern manse, occupying a site adjoining the church building near the entrance to the Park boulevard, was awarded last night by the trustees of the Emmanuel Presbyterian chapel to the Winland Brothers' Lumber company of this city. The structure will cost $42,000.

Ground will be broken as soon as the weather permits. The manse will be a two-story, red brick building and have seven rooms. It will be completed by mid-summer.

Rev. Edgar A. Walker, who now resides at 241 Pennsylvania avenue, will be the first pastor to occupy the manse. W. S. Struthers, Pittsburgh, is the architect.

DRIVER IN CRASH HELD FOR COURT

MIDLAND, Pa., March 20.—Ignatz Vula, Midland avenue, is free today under $500 bond awaiting grand jury action on a charge of failure to render assistance after an accident, filed against him by state highway patrolmen following a triple automobile crash in the Midland-East Liverpool road last Tuesday night.

Vula was also fined $10 and costs for driving without a driver's license. He was defended by E. L. Waller, Midland attorney.

Two cars were badly wrecked and Gilbert Freed, East Liverpool, O., driver of the light truck which figured in the crash, was injured.

HOSPITAL INMATE LEAPS TO DEATH

DAYTON, O., March 20.—Mrs. Gertrude Rose, 49, is dead here today of injuries sustained last night when she jumped from the fourth floor of the Miami Valley hospital where she had been a patient, according to officials of the hospital.

Mrs. Rose had undergone an operation for appendicitis last week, and last night exhibited a high temperature. The nurse, it was said, was called from the room for a moment. She returned just as her patient leaped from the window.

FANNIE HURST, NOVELIST, ASKS WHITE HOUSE TO END TIE-UP

Novelist Appeals to President to Call Conference.

CITESSITUATION Terms Pennsy Fields "Cancer Undermining Men's Faith."

By Kenneth Clark.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Coolidge was called upon today by Fannie Hurst, novelist to call a conference of operators, miners and public representatives to end the soft coal strike and agree upon remedial legislation.

Must Heal Sore, She Says.
In summarizing before the senate coal investigating committee her recent visit to the Pennsylvania coal fields she described conditions there as "a cancer undermining the faith of the strikers in government."

"I think the president should call this conference and in the interim some measures should be taken to heal the sore in Pennsylvania," said Miss Hurst.

"Of course, it would only be putting iodine on a cancer for that is what it is, but something must be done to alleviate this degrading situation. The seeds of catastrophe are being sown there."

"But don't you think the president has called such a conference in the past and nothing come of it?" said Senator Watson, (R) of Indiana. "I've attended three coal conferences myself."

"That's all the more reason why we should have a conference now," replied Miss Hurst.

Miners Ready to Act.
"Would you hold such a conference if you were elected president?" Senator Couzens (R.) of Michigan, asked Watson, Indiana's favorite son candidate for the presidential nomination.

"I have to reach that," replied Watson and laughed from the audience. "But I will say I'd leave the question of legislation entirely to this committee."

"What would Herbert Hoover do?" interposed Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana.

"I object," shot in Couzens.

"I prefer to express my opinion privately," replied Watson, adding "that's not for the record."

The United Mine workers, through John L. Lewis, president, have already agreed to attend a joint conference to draft coal legislation.

Call Millionaires in Quiz
WASHINGTON, March 20.—After listening to additional stories of the poverty and misery in the Pennsylvania soft coal fields, the senate interstate commerce committee today issued forthwith subpoenas for John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, and R. B. Mellon, a director of the Pittsburgh Coal company. Several railroad presidents, including Patrick H. Crowley, may be summoned later.

"We are calling these men to give us constructive suggestions for remedying the present situation," said Senator Watson (R) of Indiana, chairman.

Subpoenas also went out for A. K. Oliver, W. D. Reiss and J. O. Lyons, directors of the Pittsburgh Coal company.

SLAYERS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Follansbee Youths Plead Guilty to Hammer Murder.

Entering guilty pleas to the hammer murder of Steve Pettit, 50, at Follansbee, on February 15, Pete Basil, 18, and Jene Visco, 19, were sentenced to serve life imprisonment in the state prison at Moundsville when arraigned before Judge J. B. Sommerville in Brooke county circuit court yesterday.

Pleas of the pair, both of whom live at Follansbee, came as a complete surprise in court circles as they had previously pleaded not guilty and their trial had been set for February 21 and 22. Basil was represented by Attorney Walter Mahan, appointed by the court, while Visco had previously retained Attorney Robert L. Wilkins.

Arraigned before Judge Sommerville, the duo showed little concern in the proceedings and when queried by the court if they had anything to say replied in the negative.

Judge Sommerville, in sentencing the youths, declared that in his opinion if the defendants had stood trial they would have drawn the supreme penalty of the law.

Pettit was killed with a wooden hammer as he was working in a box car on a siding of a Follansbee mill. The youths later admitted the crime and claimed robbery as the motive.

DOES ONE THING — STOPS HEADACHE

Dr. James' Method

When physicians treat you for headache, they don't rely on a general "pain killer." They prescribe the thing they know acts directly to stop headache.
Here's a famous physician's prescription for headache, which millions of people have proved safe and dependable.
Dr. James' Headache Powders are just for headaches—nothing else. That's why they act so quick. They stop the worst headaches in two minutes—all others in a minute. They never fail.
Next time, ask for Dr. James' Headache Powders, and see that you get them. They're a dime at any drug store.

Prevent Flu—
Check All Colds
the Modern WayFamilies in East Liverpool
Urged to Be Careful.

While grip and influenza are so prevalent local people are urged to use this modern way of checking little colds before they become big:
Have a jar of Vicks VapoRub on hand ready for instant use at the first sign of every cold. When rubbed on throat and chest, or snuffed up the nose Vicks releases its ingredients in the form of medicated vapors which are breathed in direct to the infected parts.

In addition Vicks acts like a poultice and thus helps the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.
To prevent colds lowering the vitality and thus paving the way for flu and pneumonia, they should be treated direct and instantly—as you would an infected finger.

Oratorical Contest

Scenes reminiscent of the days of the Columbian county contest, when the trip to Lisbon was made in horse-drawn vehicles or via Pennsylvania train to Rochester, thence to New Gaffney and then over the narrow gauge line, probably will be reenacted in the high school auditorium here tonight, when East Liverpool selects its representative to enter the East Liverpool-Wellsville-Salmonville-Lisbon district oratorical event to be held on Friday evening, April 13.

Five members of the senior class—two boys and three girls, who were chosen among 47 students for places in the school finals—will vie for honors in a contest in which the subject will be based on the Constitution of the United States.

And the winner will carry the Blue and White colors into the district event in which G. Richard Glider, a freshman, of Wellsville; Lloyd Lange, a junior, of Salmonville, and either a junior or senior will represent Lisbon. The latter school will also select its orator to day after a preliminary contest in which the contestants are Michael Robino, Genevieve Graebing, Helen Custer, Esther Hartman, Lucille Kenmuir and Virginia Caldwell, members of the upper classes.

Tonight's contest in East Liverpool is open to the public, and all high school students and their parents and friends should attend, for the orations should not only prove enlightening but undoubtedly will open the way to a study of the foundation stone on which American government is built.

Futile Lectures

"The lecture," says Philip Guedalla, himself a lecturer as well as a biographer, "is a comparatively worthless thing if its effect is ended when the audience troops out and the lecturer goes back to his hotel. The lecture must, if it does its duty, serve as an incitement to reading; and if the most listless members of the audience employ it merely as a substitute, their time—as well as the lecturer's—has been very nearly wasted."

To which a cynic would reply that all lecturers and audiences waste their time these days, because lectures come so thick and fast that hearers only dash from one to another, without ever stopping to digest any of the things they hear and without making use of the ideas expressed in either their own thinking or acting.

The lecture-going habit is almost a vice with Americans. Every group seems to have its series of lectures. And every topic from travel to diet has its ready lecturer.

Polite applause when the speaker is introduced, polite applause when he has concluded his remarks, and then much bowing and hand-shaking as friends part on their wraps and start home. They say to one another, "Fine lecture, wasn't it?" "Splendid speaker!" And that's the end of that intellectual round.

The average audience doesn't go in much for a critical analysis of the lecturer's statements and opinions. If individuals do happen to disagree with him, they rarely ask themselves why, or seek to discover which point of view is right.

Still, there is no immediate reason for prohibiting lectures altogether. There is money in lecturing and entertainment in listening. Possibly, too, a few ideas take hold now and then and a few people are moved really to study and think about them.

Increase in Population

In the eight years since the last federal census the population of the United States is estimated to have increased 14 per cent—a normal, healthy growth—until the population figures now are given as 120,013,000. The federal census of 1910 gave the estimated population of the country as less than 100,000,000, and the census of 1920 gave the country's population at 105,710,000.

The population of the country has grown much more rapidly since 1920 than in the decade between 1910 and 1920. This may be ascribed to several reasons, but the chief reason, observers are inclined to believe, is the desire of foreigners to come to these shores. Emigration quotas always are completely filled.

But despite the tremendous population growth of the country there still remains ample room for everyone—and many more. Eastern cities are notoriously crowded—too much so. This is caused by so many men and women desiring to live in populated areas rather than in sparsely settled communities. But as the influx of population makes living conditions too crowded in some centers there is an exodus that sends many to less thickly populated points.

America can absorb many millions more men and women. And with the emigration quota carefully scrutinized America today is getting only the better element from abroad. This makes for a better citizenship all around, and what the native-born holding up their normal percentage in birth there is no reason to bemoan the rapid growth of the population.

Where there are great open spaces today in the western reaches of the country, tomorrow there will be cities. And today where they are small communities, tomorrow there will be thriving metropolises.

Historical Newspaper

Columns for the present-day newspaper are usually devoted to reporting events of the present. Not so, however, The Frontier Times, a monthly published by a Texan. He is devoting his paper to recording exploits of the Indian wars and the early settlers and to printing other historical material concerning Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado.

This does, in a monthly publication, what the various state and county historical associations and patriotic societies are and have been doing spasmodically. In the quarter of a century since this newspaper man has been accumulating first-hand information on the history of the southwestern part of the United States he has interviewed grizzled Indian fighters, notorious outlaws and other typical characters of other days.

If this example were to be imitated in the south, the northwest and the east, we might get valuable additions to American history.

It will soon be time to sharpen the lawnmower, for spring was ushered in at 3:45 P. M. today.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—More than fifty million people, 44 per cent of the population of continental United States and Canada as shown by the last censuses, are without access to local or county public library service, according to a survey made by the American Library Association. The exact figures are 45,669,897 for the United States and 5,399,689 for Canada, a total of 51,069,586. They are the result of an actual count by state and provinces of the population of the cities, counties, and other governmental units that have and do not have public library service.

Even more surprising is the fact that there are two cities in the United States and two in Canada of more than 25,000 population that do not have public libraries. They are Altoona, Pennsylvania, 60,331; Austin, Texas, 34,874; Quebec, 95,193; and Verdun—also in the Province of Quebec—25,001.

There are also 47 cities in the United States and 8 in Canada in the population group of from 10,000 to 25,000 that are without public libraries; 147 in the 5,000 to 10,000 population group; and 430 in the 2,500 to 5,000 group. All told, the count of urban communities—those of 2,500 population and over—that are without public libraries is 558 in the United States and 78 in Canada, a total of 636.

These people who are without public library service live in every state except Massachusetts and Rhode Island and in every Canadian province, says the American Library Association. The New England states other than the two mentioned have a comparatively small number. The surprising thing is the large count in states like New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, which have many large libraries. The greatest number is in Pennsylvania, 3,500,000, as reported by the state library; the highest per cent of the total population is 85, in Arkansas. Outside of New England, the smallest number is 13,862 in Wyoming; the smallest per cent 3, in California.

The Canadian provinces show a wide variation, it is stated. Library service is quite undeveloped in the Maritime provinces. In Quebec, complications of languages, of church, of two school systems, affect the library situation. Many of the people and communities counted as without public library service have parish or church institution libraries, yet these can not be counted as public libraries. Ontario has taken the lead in library development, and the newer western provinces have libraries in all the larger communities. All but the Maritime provinces have vast stretches of undeveloped territory to the north, not settled enough for public library service of any sort. The northwestern territories of Keewatin and Mackenzie have no libraries, nor are they ready for them. The Yukon has three small libraries.

Of the total of more than fifty million people in the United States and Canada who are not served by public libraries, only 7 per cent live in cities and towns of over 25,000 population—2,517,606 in this country and 497,812 in our neighbor on the north.

Thus the problem is essentially rural, for the 93 per cent live in the open country or in villages of less than 25,000 population. The total number of rural people without access to public libraries is a little over 47,000,000, or 83 per cent of the entire rural population—approximately 42,000,000 or 82 per cent in the United States and 5,000,000 or 93 per cent in Canada.

Questions And Answers

This is a special department devoted to the handling of inquiries. You have at your disposal an extensive organization in Washington to serve you in any capacity that relates to information. Write your question, your name, and your address clearly, and enclose a two-cent stamp for reply. Send to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. How can a boys' baseball team get into the competition for the Junior World Series? D. A. H.

A. The Junior World Series is conducted by the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion. Teams of boys of amateur standing and not over 16 years of age may enter the competition. If you do not know who the Athletic Officer of the American Legion in your city or town is, write to Dan Sowers, Director of the Americanism Commission, Indianapolis, Indiana. He will send you entry blanks and tell you where to find the nearest Legion athletic officer.

Q. Was the ukulele designed by a native of Hawaii? L. G.

A. It is not of Hawaiian origin. A white man in Hawaii is said to have designed the instrument, using the Portuguese two-patch violin as a model. It was soon adopted by the Hawaiians.

Q. May one correctly say, "Come in the house"? J. R. A. Josephine Baker says that this colloquialism is permissible only in familiar speech. "Into is required because entrance is indicated."

Q. Why was Memphis, Tennessee, so named? F. E. H. A. Its situation upon a river was so similar to that of Memphis in Egypt, that the name was given.

Q. In endurance rides, how far is a horse supposed to travel each day? P. R. T.

A. The Bureau of Animal Industry says that according to endurance rides held under the direction of a Board of Sponsors made by the representatives of the various horse and jockey associations, 60 miles a day is the distance permitted for 5 consecutive days. The maximum time permitted on any day is 9 hours. The maximum time allowed for the entire ride is 50 hours. The horse is usually carrying from 200 to 225 pounds.

Q. On what date did the national debt of the United States reach its highest peak, and what was the amount? S. E. D.

A. The national debt of the United States reached the highest peak in the history of the country on August 31, 1919, when the gross debt amounted to $25,594,000,000 (in round numbers), the net debt to $25,700,395,252.76.

Q. When was paper first made from wood pulp? L. D. G.

A. The first paper was made from wood pulp on March 5, 1867, at the mills of Interlaken, Mass.

Q. Are Tintoretto's large pictures in good condition? N. N.

A. Nearly all of the artist's large paintings have blackened.

Abe Martin Says

COMING SOON

A mother's first duty is to her family at home. After that it's noboddy's business how she brandishes her knees. It must be awful to be rich, and have nothin' to look forward to but the result of some murder trial, or gittin' all lit up agin.

A BROAD With McIntire

PARIS, March 20.—The "first showing" at dress making salons takes on the pomp of an exclusive ball. It is a new stunt this season to hold guests arriving at 9 o'clock, arrayed as though attending the opera.

Cocktails, champagne and cordials are served with a buffet lunch. Music floats from orchestras hidden behind palms. The finest establishments are in rambling old mansions with spacious inside courts which once housed nobles such as Talleyrand.

Dressmaking is one of the most profitable trades in Paris. One proprietor paid taxes on a profit of $1,800,000 last year. She is reputed to be the "girl friend" of an English duke and he helps her dissipate the profits over the gambling tables at Monte Carlo. Calot sisters own the Galeries Lafayette. Jeanne Lanvin, Patou, Lucien Lelong and a dozen others are millionaires.

Mannikins imported from America have given local mannikins a better standing. Save for one tragic example, the Americans have behaved. The Parisian mannikin has always been underpaid and being naturally beautiful she followed the easiest way and made the calling respectable. They are mostly kept.

It is interesting to watch them in gorgeous frocks parade in their sinking way and then pirouette—miracles of buoyancy and grace. But in all the grandeur one thinks of those spindly-legged, pinch faced and stooped needle girls behind the scenes—children toiling for a few francs daily.

To the French saleswomen in the dressmaking parlors every feeling gives way when it becomes a question of profit. They appear enraptured and coo foolishly in a sort of hysterical babble. All work on a percentage basis and a big sale is a small fortune.

It is the poor American husband sitting in a corner fiddling with his cane or hat, while his wife falls prey to the blandishments, who pays for grand stairways, carpeted salons and other magnificent trappings. Yet he seems to enjoy it just the same. Good humored saps—these American husbands.

This morning in the woods at Ville D'Avray, near Sevre and twenty minutes from Paris, I visited the little chateau of Corot, the painter. It has been kept intact and it was easy to see in the beauty of the surroundings.

Last night at a dinner I sat opposite the Baroness de Meyer, formerly of New York, whose hair was tinted a delicate shade of lavender. Kathleen Norris and I were unable to eat for looking.

PESSIMISM OFF TRACK.

With the big auto manufacturers starting the new year with a largely increased output; with the United States Steel Corporation reporting the operation of its plants at something like 90 per cent of their capacity, and independent steel organizations not far behind; with the February reports on building construction showing a substantial increase over January, and a still better increase over February of a year ago, there seems to be little ground left for the traditional "presidential year" pessimism.

The above are by no means all of the usually trustworthy indications of an essentially healthy condition of industry, with good promise for the future. They should be sufficient to lay the ghost of a coming year of unemployment and business panic. If a further blow to pessimism is needed, it may be found in the announcements of expansion during 1928, issued by large numbers of business concerns in all parts of the country.

Doleful prophecies of coming industrial disaster and exaggerated pictures of unfavorable conditions that do exist are in the same class with panic-producing shouts of "fire!" in a crowded hall. They may easily cause harm where harm might just as easily have been avoided.—Columbus Dispatch.

NOT SO GOOD.

Five years ago some of the old line railroad operators of America were being rallied at for their poor showing in running their plants as contrasted with the remarkable success of Henry Ford in his management of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton road. The poor business of the Ford Motor company last year was reflected in the earnings of the Ford railroad. For 1927, the road showed a net loss of $134,000 after taxes and charges. This compared with net income for 1926 of $1,409,273 equivalent to $11.28 a share earned on the combined 124,899 shares of preferred and common stocks.

As in the case with most roads, Detroit, Toledo & Ironton was unable to reduce its operating costs to the extent that gross revenue fell off. Last year the ratio of operating expenses to gross was 79.9 per cent, while in 1926 these expenses took only 68.2 per cent.

After all there was no magic wand of management or control that produced the Ford road's superior showing. This year's

The "Luxury" of a Clay Pack

By Edna Wallace Hopper.

Do you regard a clay pack as one of those delightful inventions for those who can pay to look young? When your own face seems to sag, looks sallow and tired do you simply accept it as "one of those things?"

All it needs is care. A tired skin can be remarkably refreshed by my simple clay pack.

Get a tube of Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay and apply it as directed. When you wash it off the gentle, purifying action of the clay leaves a pleasant afterglow. The pores are freed of tiny, blemishing clots of dirt which become imbedded and, particularly in oily skins, form blackheads. Your face is thoroughly freed from these obstructions and the pores can function normally. The clay also is an astringent, leaving the pores closed, the skin firm and clear.

My White Youth Clay is the only product of its kind of which I know. It is dainty and agreeable to use. Get it at any toilet counter, in several sizes.

Cement Block Type of Building Increasing

East Liverpool Cement Block Co., Manufactures
Durability, Economy, Satisfaction
Into Its Products.

Cozy appearance, substantial construction, endurance and the utmost in satisfaction are factors that recommend cement blocks as manufactured by the East Liverpool Cement & Block company, Union street, to prospective 1928 builders in the East Liverpool district.

Progress in concrete block construction for dwellings, especially, has taken rapid strides within the past few years as the many advantages such as these, become more generally understood.

There is no doubt that the sparkling beauty of the granite crystals comprising the facing of these cement blocks, enhanced by the natural rock surface design, adds attractiveness and distinctiveness to homes built of this material, and the originality of architectural designs possible is becoming unlimited.

Chief among the primary reasons why these block dwellings have many advantages over other types are greater permanency, greater economy, lower upkeep and the fact that houses of this type are fireproof.

These cement blocks cost less than almost any other high grade building material and cost considerably less for laying, as they require less labor than brick or wood construction. More rapid construction is possible with blocks than with any other known material. As they never lose their sparkling beauty and require no upkeep or repairs the economies and advantages of this type of construction are becoming more and more generally realized.

Another very important advantage of cement blocks is the fact that they are absolutely waterproof and the hollow wall construction, because of the dead air space in the blocks, makes a positive dry basement that is cool in summer and warm in winter, these dead air spaces acting as a non-conductor to heat or cold. They are so perfectly dense and free from pores that no moisture of any kind can possibly be absorbed, even if the block is laid in the water. Never, under any circumstances, will there be found any moisture or mold on the inside of the basement wall if built of this material.

Owing to the light gray color of the East Liverpool Cement block company products, the interior of the basement is materially brightened, presenting an extremely light, clean surface. Being built of poured slush concrete, these blocks have the same strength as though a wall were built of solid concrete, thus making for the strongest possible construction.

Foundations for the tallest skyscrapers are built of slush concrete poured into molds, following the same identical principle by which these cement blocks are made. But, a personal chat with Mr. Pugh, who operates the East Liverpool Cement Block Co., here, will probably give you more information than you could obtain any other way. Fully acquainted with every angle of the business, Mr. Pugh is in a position to discuss your building problems in detail. His office is located in Union street, between Second and Third.

The Capable Workman Is An Artist Too

The man in overalls, with his hand on the throttle—the man whose skill takes his precious human freight over mountains and rivers—that man is an artist in his chosen profession. So is the mechanic who turns out a machine, perfect in all its parts—the factory worker who creates a beautiful article—the miner who unearths the riches of the earth—the farmer who provides the necessities of life. Knowing his job well, and loving it wholeheartedly, lifts a man out of the drudge class. It makes him a big man in his calling.

We are proud of the part our Store is prepared to play during Work Clothes Week. Mr. Workman will find here the things he needs to help him keep the wheels of industry busy. Serviceable overalls, shoes, caps, shirts and socks; all reliable merchandise at interestingly low prices.

The workmen of America have made life over for all of us during the last 50 years. We are too prone to accept our labor-saving devices as a matter of course and forget the debt we owe the workers whose skill have made our lives more convenient.

CANTON PASTOR PREACHES AT UNION SERVICE

Rev. Harry Hildebrand in First U. P. Church Pulpit.

SPECIAL MUSIC

"Religion in New Gear" Pre-Easter Sermon Topic.

Second week of the union evangelistic campaign of five down-town churches opened in the First United Presbyterian church last night with Rev. Harry Hildebrand, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Canton, occupying the pulpit.

Oliver Johnson, of the First Presbyterian church, led the song service preceding the preaching. Rev. L. J. Davison, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. Warren O. Hawkins, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

A mixed quartet from the United Presbyterian church rendered a number, "Though Your Sins Be As Scarlet." Rev. Mr. Hildebrand based his sermon on the subject, "Religion in New Gear," his text being taken from Revelations 3:16 "Because you are lukewarm and neither cold nor hot."

Tonight's service will be in charge of Rev. Mr. Hildebrand. In part, last night, he said:

"Running a car in low gear is not the normal way of driving. Where would we get if a majority of the car owners would drive in the same speed we church members run our religious lives? High gear is the normal way for automobile driving and is the normal way to gauge the Christian life. The reason so few sinners are found in our churches is because of the low gear of living never excites or inspires the outsider.

"The high-gear living is being possessed with the joy of Christ, love and peace. These are the things that attract the attention of others. When the church member is possessed with the spirit of Christ then he becomes attractive to others."

supplies for the water works department was also passed on three readings. These supplies include 175 tons of aluminum sulphate; 125 tons of pebble or hydrated lime; 5,000 tons of slack coal; 250 tons cast iron pipe and fittings; boiler stoker not to exceed $2,500 in cost and baffle for one boiler not to exceed $500 in cost.

Other Legislation Enacted. Other legislation, which was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules, included:

Resolution declaring it necessary to grade and pave Palissy street from Pennsylvania avenue to Etruria street. Resolution authorizing the city to accept 5 per cent interest instead of 6 per cent on bonds to meet the city's share of the cost of improving Dresden avenue from West Ninth street to the corporate limits.

Resolution adjusting special assessments for the Riley and Laura avenue and Ephraim street improvements in connection with property owned by J. H. Brookes, Mary Alley and J. S. Hilbert as trustee for the Stenberville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company.

Ordinance appropriating $3,000 for boilers for the municipal water works plant.

Presses Claim for Damages. City Engineer Clapsaddle was instructed to set the grade lines in Greenwood alley between West Ninth street and Ridgeway avenue for property holders who wish to erect garages.

A communication from Earl McDele, complaining about water from the roof of the Central fire station which he says caused the cellar of his home to be damaged, was referred to the service-safety director.

Mrs. George Watkins, who alleges she was injured in a fall in West Eighth street, appeared before council to press her claim for $140 damages—$30 for medical services and $100 for personal injuries. Council referred the claim to the claims committee, service-safety director and solicitor.

Pleasant Heights Complaint. Councilmen Hughes and Poole reported they had received complaints about muddy water on Pleasant Heights. Director Moore said that the city chemist had analyzed the water and found it contained rust, evidently from the standpipe. He expressed the opinion that there was no way to remedy the situation until the new standpipe was completed.

The solicitor was instructed to order the removal of a garage which it is claimed occupies a part of the alley at the rear of 1100 Vine street. The solicitor was also instructed to start a court action to force the removal of the structure if the alley was not vacated within 30 days.

PILGRIMS VISIT EXILE TROTSKY

LONDON, March 20.—Hundreds of political pilgrims are making the journey to Vienna to visit Leon Trotsky, former member of the Soviet government who was exiled to that place, according to information from Riga today. So great was the traffic of pilgrims between Riga and Vienna that a private airplane line was established. So far the Moscow government has taken no action to prevent pilgrimages to Trotsky's place of banishment, but it may do so if Trotsky attempts to become active politically against the men in power in the Soviet administration.

BLAZE BREAKS OUT IN SING SING PRISON

Reserve Guards are Called Out at Noon.

ORDER PREVAILS

One Large Workshop in Ruins as Fire Spreads.

OSSINING, N. Y., March 20.—Two alarms of fire have been sounded for a blaze which broke out shortly before noon today within the walls of Sing Sing prison, according to police here.

All available apparatus was rushed to the prison to augment the Sing Sing firefighting forces. The institution is outside the village and early reports did not state the location of the blaze.

The reserve guards within Sing Sing had been called out and all prisoners were called in from their daily tasks. The fire had not been brought under control at 12:15 this afternoon.

The blaze was discovered in one of the prison workshops. It was hoped that with the aid of their Ossining departments the fire could be confined to the building in which it started. The extent of the fire could not be accurately told.

Launch Two Investigations. All the prisoners were marshalled to their cells in cell blocks away from the scene of the fire. Principal Keeper John Sheehy reported complete order among the several hundred inmates.

Prison officials did not connect the fire in any way with an attempted jail break.

However, two investigations, by firemen and by prison officials under Warden Lewis E. Lawes, were under way even while the flames were being fought.

There are about 1200 prisoners in Sing Sing where the fire broke out. An hour after the fire started one large workshop 100 by 200 feet was a mass of ruins.

Any one knowing the present whereabouts of the family is requested to communicate with Mrs. Bowers.

BLUEJACKETS HONOR MEMORY OF S-4 DEAD

Bodies of Eight Men Removed From Steel Hulk.

40 GAVE LIVES

Submersible Now in Charlestown Navy Yard.

CHELSEA NAVAL HOSPITAL, CHELSEA, Mass., March 20.—Bodies of the eight men who died at their posts in the submarine S-4 after a collision with the coast guard destroyer Paulding, today were resting on black shrouded pallets in this hospital. Above was draped the stars and stripes.

In the distance, the slow steady tread of an armed bluejacket was heard, as he paced the blue jacket watch, the greatest honor of the navy to its heroes.

The bodies were those of Lieut. Graham Fitch, Roger L. Short, Frank Sniek, Russell A. Crabb, Joseph L. Stevens, George Pelnar, William Dempsey, and Joseph Sterman.

Salem Procession From Ship. The bodies were found in the steel hull of the submarine S-4 yesterday while the boat lay in dry-dock at the Charlestown navy yard. The silt and mud of their three months' entombment was removed and the bodies brought from the ship to the hospital late last night.

The procession from the ship was solemn. The slow march of the hero-laden ambulance was accompanied by the solemn steps of the blue-jacket watch. As the procession passed through the gates of the yard, marine and navy men stood at attention, with heads bared.

All of the 40 dead on the S-4 have been found, identified and sent to their homes or to national cemeteries in flag-draped caskets. Thirty-two bodies were recovered by divers when the submarine lay on the floor of the ocean off Provincetown.

The father, mother and widow of Lieut. Graham Fitch, the last officer taken from the S-4, were here to claim the body.

Oil Scandal Quiz

lution overwhelmingly declaring they would never select a nominee that "had the support of Ryan, J. Pierpont Morgan or any other person in the privilege of wanting or favor-seeking class."

There seemed little likelihood that the senate committee would call Smith as a witness. There appeared a greater probability that Smith would demand a hearing, whether or not he is subpoenaed. His connections with Sinclair will be aired thoroughly in the senate within the next few days.

Two Witnesses Called.

The political developments far overshadowed the pending plans of the investigating committee, which resumes its hearings Wednesday morning. Investigators were reported working in Illinois upon the sensational story of a "mystery witness" that a package had been sent a high government official by an oil company official. One unofficial report reached the committee that the package contained Christmas cards but there was no official verification of this.

Two witnesses were summoned for tomorrow. Wilbur W. Marsh, Democratic national treasurer in 1920, was called to reply to charges that he and the late Fred W. Upham, Republican treasurer, agreed to cancel all campaign contributions received during 1923. Marsh has denied the story, told by two of Upham's secretaries, but he will be asked to make the denial under oath.

Merritt Baldwin, a confidential secretary of Sinclair from 1922 to 1924, also was subpoenaed. He will be asked to tell something about Sinclair's activities in 1923, when the oil man was turning over huge sums in Continental Liberty bonds to the republican cause.

Meanwhile, another federal judge, Chief Justice George B. Martin of the district court of appeals, added his denial today that he had ever received "a package of Liberty bonds" from any Sinclair source.

"I never received any bonds from or had any business dealings with Mr. Sinclair or with anybody else connected with the Teapot Dome case," said Judge Martin.

Brush Welcomes Inquiry

Louis H. Brush, who with Roy D. Moore, bought the Marion, Ohio Star from President Harding, declared he welcomed the fullest inquiry into the details of that sale.

"I emphatically urge," said Mr. Brush, "that all friends of the late President Harding will get actively behind an investigation of anything and everything pertaining to Mr. Harding's affairs in connection with this situation."

"Let us, for the sake of square shooting and in fairness to the memory of President Harding, bring this thing right out in the open and go straight through it."

CHECKS FLOOD BORAH'S MAIL

WASHINGTON, Marh 20.—Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, received $125 in the first mail today for his "Republican conscience fund" to repay Harry F. Sinclair's $150,000 gifts to the Republican party campaign chest. A check for $100 from one donor was included, and the remainder was in small sums. This brings the total cash received to $2600, but Borah announced he will no longer give out the names of contributors.

ROTARY HEARS REV. R. K. CAULK

"Conservation of Forests" Topic at Noon Luncheon.

Conservation of forests and wild game was urged by Rev. R. K. Caulk, rector of the St. Stephens Episcopal church, before 35 members of the Rotary Club and their guests in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. His subject was "Conservation of Wild Life in America."

The speaker was introduced by R. J. Shepherd, Fifth street meat dealer. Martin Abbott who presided, announced the district conference which will be held in the Hotel Statler, Cleveland, April 24 and 25. H. Dan Smith will be chairman of next Tuesday's luncheon. Meeting of the Boys' Work committee, headed by Charles Boyce, was held following the luncheon.

"We have not only hunted our game but we have destroyed it," said the speaker. "We have destroyed our forests and we are destroying our country. The religion of our forefathers, the Puritans, was due, in a large respect, to their great love for outdoor life."

"We are the most wasteful people on the face of the earth. Not many years ago we had 422,000,000 acres of timber. Very little of this remains. Every year we pay more and more for timber because it is gradually being wasted."

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 20.—Efforts of the professional traders to force prices of the speculative leaders to lower levels were met by a strong buying in various sections of the list at the beginning of trading today. United States Steel dropped back 13 points on the news that the Duponts had disposed of their holdings of 114,000 shares purchased last June, but the ability of the market to absorb this large block of stock was accepted as a good evidence of its underlying strength.

Wall Street heard that there was an increasing prospect of the success of negotiations which have been in progress for a year or more for a gigantic merger of the Radio corporation and affiliated interests. Radio was strong in the early trading, but the volume of transactions in this spectacular market leader was comparatively small. Mackay companies was in demand around 131, unchanged from Monday's close. International Tel and Tel. lost about 2 points.

The strong market for the public utility stocks continued, with Consolidated Gas, North American and Electric power and Light making moderate advances in active trading. American Locomotive led a rally in the equipment stocks, in which American Car and Foundry and Baldwin participated. The motors were dull and slightly reactionary with Nash and Chrysler fractionally lower, and General Motors off about 2 points. Victor Talking machine jumped 42 points to 752.

FARMERS LINE UP FOR CORN BORER FIGHT

Battle Looms Over Proposed $10,000,000 Appropriation.

CALL HEARINGS

Witnesses From "Corn Belt" on Both Sides.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The mid-west congressional delegation was lining up today for a farm fight second only to the McNary-Haugen bill for the proposal of Representative Purnell, (R) of Indiana to appropriate another $10,000,000 to fight the European Corn Borer.

Hearings are scheduled to begin next week before the house agriculture committee, with witnesses from the "Corn Belt" slated to appear on both sides of the question.

Denying reports that he would drop the measure in the face of opposition, Purnell declared that he would bring witnesses here to show an overwhelming sentiment for the fund.

"Some farmers have got the idea that the fund is to be used to purchase a lot of machinery and other equipment, when the bill is really intended to pay the farmers for the cleaning up work they must do to combat the borer," said Purnell.

Ohioan Opposes Bill. "The corn borer is just as much of a menace as it ever was, and witnesses will be here to show that the farmers want to blot it out."

The fight in committee against the bill will be led by Representative Thompson (R) of Ohio, who also plans to bring in farmers and their spokesmen to declare that the corn borer scare was raised to get funds for the department of agriculture.

Opposition of Northern Ohio farmers has already been presented to both committees on appropriation and agriculture, but a full hearing was decided on.

With farmers and local farm organizations hammering away on both sides of the questions, American farm bureau officials here have thus far remained neutral.

VISITORS ATTEND NAZARENE MEET

A delegation of members from the Church of the Nazarene from Lincoln Place, Pa., headed by their pastor, Rev. T. H. Amot, formerly of East Liverpool, attended the revival services at the Nazarene church, Lincoln and St. Clair avenues, last night. The trip was made by motor bus.

Rev. T. M. Anderson, Wilmore, Ky., evangelist, preached on the subject "Pentecost." Rev. and Mrs. Halder Lillenas, Indianapolis song leaders, rendered a vocal duet, "Zion's Hill." The meetings will be continued throughout the week, including Saturday. Rev. Lillenas, as a feature of the Wednesday evening service, will call for a suggested theme for a hymn and during a 10-minute intermission will compose the words and music for the song, then lead the congregation in singing the composition.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS "NOT SERIOUS"

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Coolidge was informed by Secretary of Labor Davis at the cabinet meeting today that the unemployment situation throughout the country "is not serious."

Davis has not yet completed the national survey which he was directed to take, under a senate resolution, but the investigation has proceeded far enough, he informed Mr. Coolidge, to show that "there are still many places in the country where the demand for labor exceeds the supply."

100 Members of House Seek Ride With Lindy

Congressmen Rush in Where Senators Apparently Fear to Tread for Flight Over Nation's Capital.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Members of the house rushed in today where senators apparently fear to tread, with nearly 100 congressmen filing applications for flights over the capital with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in the next three days.

Lindy's invitation to members of both houses for flights received scant attention from the senate. He apparently was sure of only two or three passengers from that branch.

A woman congressman—Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican of Massachusetts—will be one of the first passengers in a giant army Fokker transport plane.

It will not be her first experience, however, as it will for many passengers. She has been up in both land and seaplanes.

Senator Frazier (R) of North Dakota, was one of the first on the list of the senate passengers. Speaker Longworth of the house has already flown with "Lindy." Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader, was counted among the passengers.

the ground has little chance against war from the sky.

You are reminded that modern big business is really big. Read that Chevrolet, one branch of General Motors, will pay this year $34,000,000 for railroad freight.

Without wishing sorrow for railroads, something might be done to diminish automobile freight. A Chevrolet car on the Pacific Coast costs $116 freight from the factory. That is a good deal to pay for a car that can run on its own wheels the two thousand miles from the factory for $25 worth of gasoline and oil, plus a little wear and tear on tires.

The elevated railroad in New York made no money until the fare was reduced from ten cents to five. Railroads will make more when they find a way to carry freight and passengers less expensively. That is said with realization of the fact that railroad builders have built the country and are entitled to fair treatment.

PEASANT MOBS DEFY POLICE AT BUCHAREST

Members of Royal Family Threatened With Injury.

PRINCE JEERED

Son of Queen Forced to Shout "Down With Government."

BELGRADE, March 20.—Shouting their defiance of the government, mobs of Roumanian peasants, members of the National Peasant party, have completely overawed police and other officials at Bucharest and have even threatened members of the Royal family with bodily injury, according to dispatches from the Roumanian capital today.

Prince Nicholas, son of Queen Marie and the late King Ferdinand, was immediately surrounded by an infuriated mob on one of the main thoroughfares when his car was recognized.

He was forced to stand up and join in shouts of "down with the government" before he was allowed to proceed to the palace of the Royal family.

Frenchman's face showed many centuries of thinking by his ancestors. The Egyptian's face showed complete lack of thinking, all the way back to Ptolemy Soter and beyond.

CHICAGO MUST PAY BIG PRICE FOR NEW ZOO

Roughly, Rhinoceros
Costs From $8,000 to $10,000.

NO FLAT RATE

African Elephant Worth
$6,000; Zebras Sold in Pairs.

CHICAGO—How much does a rhinoceros cost. And an elephant, a baboon, a giraffe and a tiger?

This is what Alfred E. Parker, director of the Lincoln Park Zoo here, must determine when he starts to purchase animals for Chicago's new $5,000,000 forest preserve zoo.

Roughly, a rhinoceros costs $8,000 to $10,000—that is, the Indian rhino which is considered the most valuable.

"There is no flat rate on animals of any kind," explained Parker. "So many things enter into the deal. The age of the animal, its physical condition and its type enter into the transaction."

Parker receives letters daily from remote quarters of the globe offering him a pink eared monkey or a web-footed ostrich. All prices are free on board port of entry in the United States.

"The African elephant today is worth about $6,000. His Indian cousin which can hardly be distinguished from the African animal, can be bought for about $1,800 or $3,000," Parker said.

The zebra is rather valuable. They are only sold in pairs. The zoo director must buy two of them. One brand of zebra, known as the "Giant Zebra" is worth about $1,500.

Giraffes High.
"Giraffes are most in demand when they are between 2½ and 3 years old and at that age they are between eight and ten feet tall. They are valued at between $8,000 and $10,000 a pair.

FIERCE Klieg lights blazing down, drenching the stars' skin with light—the camera mercilessly recording! Only exquisitely smooth skin—"studio skin"—can defy the cruel lights of the close-up which permit of very little make-up.

Smooth, exquisite skin is essential for popularity, leading motion picture directors declare.

Every star in Hollywood knows that smooth, velvety skin means even more to her than it does to most women—it means her very career. How she guards it! Nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap!

It cares for their skin the true French way. For this lovely, white, fragrant soap is made by the method France developed and uses for her finest toilet soaps.

And the great film companies, following their stars' example, have made Lux Toilet Soap the official soap in their studio dressing rooms. Beauty is important in Hollywood!

City Probably Will Appeal Fiber Verdict

Solicitor Knepper Expected to be Instructed Tonight to Carry Damage Case to Higher Court.

City of Wellsville, loser in the first round of a legal battle to force payment of a judgment claimed by Roy Fiber, former local filling station owner who charges damages to his property as a result of inadequate drainage, probably will carry the case into the higher courts on appeal, it was indicated today as councilmen prepared for their regular session tonight.

While no forecast of council's action was made today, it was indicated that Solicitor Raymond Knepper would be instructed, at tonight's session, to take the case to the court of appeals.

Review of the various stages of the legal dispute, up to its present status, likely will be made by Knepper.

Fiber operated a gasoline filling station at the corner of Fifteenth and Commerce streets in August, 1916, when the city was swept by several rain storms. Water flooded the west end of the city in many places, overflowing sidewalks and into cellars, and bursting through the McQueen's Run sewer.

Fiber, going into court, sought damages to the amount of $3,000. Following a three-day hearing, a jury awarded him judgment of $1,000. Solicitor Knepper immediately filed a motion for a new trial after the jury decision, but the motion was overruled by Judge W. P. Vaughn.

Fiber is represented by Attorney Charles Boyd while Attorney Jason Brookes, East Liverpool, is assisting the prosecution.

REV. R. K. CAULK CLUB SPEAKER

Rector at Salineville Noon Meeting Thursday.

Rev. R. K. Caulk, rector of St. Stephens Episcopal church, East Liverpool, will speak at the Kiwanis luncheon, Thursday noon in the United Presbyterian church, Salineville. The senior Missionary society will serve the dinner. Robert E. Madison will donate the attendance prize.

The Muskingum College basketball team will play the Kiwanis team at Addison hall Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

A fellowship dinner and program was held at the K. of C. hall in observance of St. Patrick's day Saturday evening. Places were laid for 300.

Rev. E. B. Conry delivered an address of welcome, after which a play, entitled "The Life of St. Patrick" was given. Miss Myrtle Strabley was director.

The leading characters were: Francis Doyle, Charles Mundy, James Gill, Paul Mundy and Joseph Vanuech.

The role of Angel was enacted by Winifred Sheehan; the Two Dreamers by Mary Gill and Mary Maher; Mrs. James McLaughlin sang two solos after the play and the McKean sisters of Tiltonville gave a program of Irish songs, dances and readings. Euberta Strabley gave a fairy dance. The program was closed with the song, "Star Spangled Banner."

The congregation of the United Presbyterian church made the annual canvass Sunday afternoon. The funds subscribed are to finance the church during the new church year, commencing April first.

The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church.

Reports from all boards and committees will be made and vacancies on the session boards of deacons and trustees will be filled.

A report was given at the United Presbyterian church Thursday evening under the auspices of the Women's Home Mission society, entitled "America's Unfinished Battles". Mrs. J. A. Crawford, educational secretary of the board of home missions of the church, had charge of the program. The three leading characters were America, Miss Ruth Lewton; Patriotism, Miss Bernice Williams; and Service, Miss Phyllis Carter. About 75 persons took part, including the choir that furnished music during the program.

Rev. Ross Wilson led the devotional service. Misses Evelyn and Martha Mar — a duet. Mrs. Earl Holmes sang a solo.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Taken nightly they give you a better you.

EXPECT PARLEY REPORTS TONIGHT

Solons' reports on plans for a conference with the street car company in respect to paving Clark avenue, a parley with the county commissioners; and the appointment of an attorney to represent the city in the Thomas damage case may be submitted at tonight's semi-monthly session.

Council franchise committee, consisting of Solons Keay, Haugh and Peters, were to confer with the street car company on paving, while Mayor W. L. Fogo, Director Imbrie and Solicitor Knepper were to interview county commissioners on road work.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. L. Fogo, Hillcrest, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. William Floto, Glassport, Pa.

Mrs. G. W. Runyan, Aten avenue, is reported recovering from an operation she underwent yesterday in the Gill hospital, Steubenville.

Mrs. H. B. Andrews, who has been spending the winter with relatives in Leetonia, has returned to her home in Main street.

TORONTO CLUB KIWANIS GUEST HERE TONIGHT

High School Band Will Accompany Visitors.

DINNER MEET
Wellsville Members Will Meet Party at Tenth St.

Toronto Kiwanian club members who will be guests of the Wellsville club at an inter-city session tonight in the United Presbyterian church here, will be accompanied to Wellsville by the Toronto high school band, according to arrangements announced today.

The Toronto school band is numbered among the best equipped and most efficient organization of its kind in this section of the valley. It has accompanied the Kiwanis club and other Toronto civic organizations on similar trips on other occasions.

The visiting Kiwanians are due to arrive here on the 6:15 interurban street car. They will be met at Tenth street by Wellsville club members and the entire delegation will march to the church for dinner at 6:30.

KERR FUNERAL ON WEDNESDAY

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Nancy Kerr, 88, who died Sunday in her home several miles north of the city in the Lisbon road, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence.

Rev. Robert W. Ustick, Springfield, O., former pastor of the Wellsville First United Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Kerr had been a member, will conduct the services.

Interment will be made in the cemetery adjoining the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church.

COUNTY PAROLES LEONARD SPEARS

Leonard Spears, committed to the county jail from Wellsville in default of a fine of $100 and costs has been paroled by the county commissioners upon the recommendation of the committing magistrate. Spears spent 32 days in the county jail, and has been given credit at $1.50 per day. He is to pay the balance against him at the rate of $10 per month.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our husband and father Mr. Stewart Steele. Especially do we thank the Rev. O. L. Benedum, singers of the Nazarene church and friends and to all who sent the beautiful floral displays.

MRS. MARY A. STEELE AND FAMILY.

P.-T. SOCIETIES GIVE PROGRAMS

Garfield and McKinley Parent Teacher associations held their monthly meetings last night. Music, both instrumental and vocal, readings and talks made up the program in the Garfield building. A playlet, "Tom Thumb's Wedding," featured the program in the McKinley building.

HEALTH HINTS For Parents

Here's a way to make the most delicate boy hale and hearty, and "hard as nails." A way to build his body, and put on weight. Heed this hint, and no boy or girl of yours need ever take another cathartic!

Most ailments of children begin with being bilious; end the trouble then and there, with a spoonful of California Fig Syrup. Nothing stronger, nothing else. The bowels will do their duty without using force! If your children have already contracted the laxative habit, fig syrup will then wean them away from it.

California Fig Syrup is a purely vegetable product. It will do any child a world of good; it is, in fact, a very wonderful conditioner for children or adults. Its rich, fruity flavor is so delicious, it's no hardship to take! Nor can it harm even an infant. Only one caution: be sure to get the genuine California Fig Syrup; don't neglect to say "California." It isn't expensive—sixty cents for a generous bottle at all dealers.

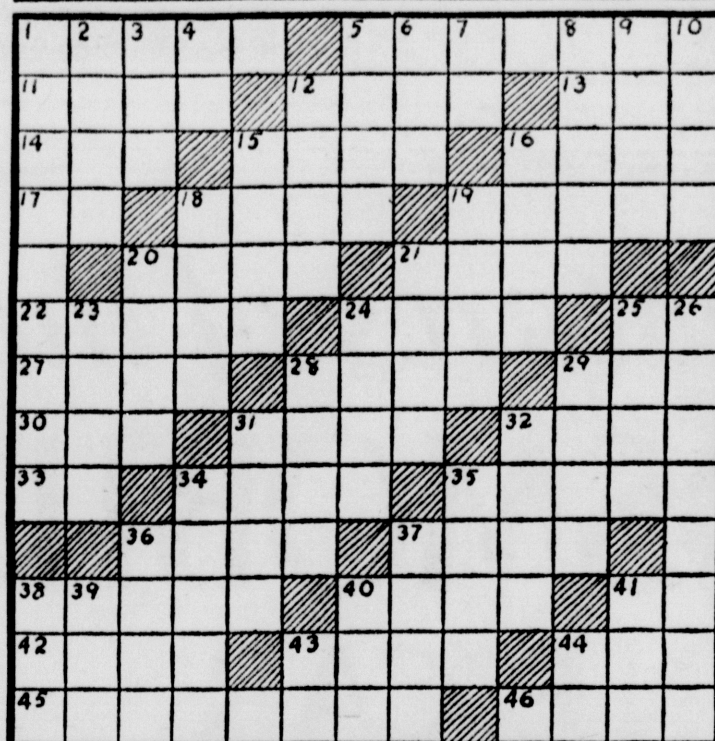

Try California Fig Syrup two weeks on any child, and let his altered ap-

EAST LIVERPOOL-YOUNGSTOWN ROAD JOB BIDS TO BE OPENED APRIL 23

Section of Inter-city Highway Within Cor- porate Limits of Cer- amic City Will be Sur- faced.

LISBON, March 20.—Bids will be opened probably April 23 by the county commissioners for the surfacing of that section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road within the limits of East Liverpool. Grading has been completed from West Ninth street northward to the corporate limits. It is proposed to construct a 20-foot road-way, and it is likely that contracts will be awarded for a concrete top.

On the same date the commissioners are expected to open bids for the grading and drainage structures on the road from Moultrie to the Stark county line and also for the improvement of the North Georgetown-Homeworth highway.

On account of the county sharing in the improvement of the Lincoln highway in Madison township, it is said that the state highway department will probably only cold patch this road again this year. About $3,000 was spent by the state last year doing this type of work, but today the road is seemingly in just as bad condition as before the cold patch was applied.

The commissioners are of the opinion this road should be widened, new curbs built, and a heavy concrete top placed upon the present brick foundation.

TWO DIVORCE PETITIONS FILED

LISBON, MARCH 20.—Myrtle B. Templeton, formerly of Carrollton, now residing at Bayard, through her attorney, J. E. Bauknecht, has filed a petition for divorce against her husband, Eugene J. Templeton, formerly employed as a barber at Canton, whose whereabouts are unknown.

Templeton abandoned his wife, taking $100, all the money they had, July 18, last year, less than four months after they were married, it is charged. They have one child. Templeton is also charged with gross neglect of duty.

Nina Brennen, through her counsel, G. Jay Clark of East Liverpool, has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband, Charles R. Brennen, said to be residing at 66 Wayne avenue, Youngstown. They were married at New Cumberland, W. Va., Nov. 3, 1923. The defendant is charged with extreme cruelty, and also with mistreating his wife since they were married.

Leetonia Man Paroled.
LISBON, March 20.—A parole has also been granted John McFarland of Leetonia upon the recommendation of Justice O. L. Butts of East Palestine. McFarland has spent 106 days in the county jail in default of a fine of $200 and costs, and he is to pay the balance at the rate of $10 per month.

Dr. Harris Named Jail Physician.
LISBON, March 20.—Dr. Seward Harris of Lisbon has been awarded the contract for attending prisoners at the county jail for the next fiscal year, on his bid of $400. The award has been made by the county commissioners.

Appeals Claim for Compensation.
LISBON, March 20.—John Haggerty, an employee of the American Sewer Pipe Co., at Lisbon on March 19th, 1914, has appealed from the decision of the state industrial commission to common pleas court on a claim for compensation as a result of injury to eyes.

Haggerty was carrying a bucket of mortar when the handle on the bucket snapped and the lime splashed in his eyes. He lost sight of his right eye and is partially blind in the left eye.

Leave to file an answer to the petition at once has been granted in the foreclosure action of Earl Geiselman against Roy and Lena V. Bennett.

Fence in County Home Lands.

LISBON, March 20.—A portion of the farm lands of the county home property whereupon a number of abandoned oil and gas wells are located is to be fenced in, and the ground turned over to pasture. The county commissioners have approved the plan of Supt. John Neill, who has advised the board that the acreage should be made to show a profit. Construction of the fence will begin within the next three weeks.

Partition Action Filed.

LISBON, March 20.—Claiming that he is entitled to a one-fourth interest in a farm of 70.89 acres in sections 18, St. Clair township, Lorain McKenzie has filed partition proceedings in common pleas court, his counsel being Ben L. Bennett of East Liverpool. The defendants named in the action are Hazel H. Green, Mary and William Wolf, of East Liverpool and Dora Langenbacher, residing outside of the county.

Marriage Licenses.
LISBON, March 20.—A marriage license has been issued to Neal McCall and Miss Anna Hoppel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoppel, and both residing at East Liverpool.

Restraining Order Issued.
LISBON, March 20.—In the divorce action filed in common pleas court by Della M. Burdick against her husband Harry T. Burdick, temporary restraining order has been allowed without bond, as prayed for in the petition of the plaintiff.

Indigestion Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

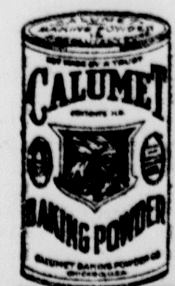

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

See these features of the NEW OLDSMOBILE THE FINE CAR OF LOW PRICE

"The Fine Car of Low Price" is the earned title of this new Oldsmobile.

Earned by virtue of the most imposing array of quality features ever embodied in any car priced "for the American family!"

Body features . . . engine features . . . performance features . . . equipment features . . . features new and different, smart and refreshing . . . many so daring, so obviously a pace ahead as to reflect a buoyant, modern spirit unapproached in even the best of cars at anywhere near its price.

The instant you view its new body by Fisher you will recognize these facts. But you can't grasp their full significance till you know the whole story of its new features.

New, Larger Engine of High-Compression Type

If it is speed you want, just drive this new, larger Oldsmobile.

If it is smoothness you seek, you will be amazed to find acceleration from 0 to 60 miles per hour in 8 1/2 seconds, so smooth and flowing that it has been compared to the steady, "stagecoach" pickup of an electric motor.

If power is important to you, here is developed 65 horse power.

And even with more speed and more power, here also is greater operating economy.

All these are the results of a new and larger L-head engine . . . a high-compression engine. This engine embodies a new cylinder head developed in the General Motors Research Laboratories—a head of exclusive design which permits full, smooth power-flow, and provides the advantages of high-compression design without special fuels.

Proved by a Million Miles

This engine stands proved by 1,177,000 miles of testing . . . proved under actual traffic conditions on the highways . . . proved under the searching eyes of engineers on General Motors Proving Ground.

The surpassing efficiency of this engine is augmented by crankcase ventilation, which eliminates excessive dilution . . . by oil filter, air cleaner, a specially controlled cooling system and other features which are sources of great satisfaction.

This engine is also notable for remarkable rigidity of crankcase and cylinder block. It rides on a rubber cushion mounting; not the ordinary rubber mounting but a positive "discovery."

Two Years Ahead

But the triumph achieved in this great engine is but one of innumerable features which stamp this new larger Oldsmobile as at least two years ahead of current automotive practice.

Easy operation is an outstanding quality . . . easy control, easy steering, easy parking.

New sources of long life are presented by point after point in the design and construction of body, chassis and engine.

A new degree of safety, stronger assurance of dependability, added elements of operating thrift . . . all are expressed in surprising provisions for that thorough satisfaction which has heretofore identified high-priced cars.

Aut motive Critics Praise It

Blanchard of Motor, Boynton of Automotive Daily News, Clary of Motor Age and Denham of Automotive Industries, are among the eminent automotive critics whose commendations of this

TWO-DOOR SEDAN '925 F.O.B. LANSING

Fine Car of Low Price, come as further evidence that it is indeed two years ahead.

Naturally interested in technical merits, their attention has focused largely on the engine and upon the many chassis features.

These chassis features include—four-wheel brakes, and specially selected springs—which, with a complete set of four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, make riding gliding.

Silenced Chassis Silenced Interior

In no respect is this new Oldsmobile more truly the fine car than in its quietness. Not till you have ridden in it can you realize how the new rubber cushioning of the motor, a new rubber core clutch, a new double-cushioned universal joint system, new non-squeak shackles and even rubber cushioned bumpers, combine with sound insulation to silence both chassis and body.

This insulation of the body between the interior and the engine, is an outstanding feature.

Hidden, but constituting a tremendous source of satisfaction, this insulation provides a silenced interior—the finishing touch to that all-around riding enjoyment which is a dominant characteristic of this new Oldsmobile.

Super-Sturdy New Frame

The frame is of remarkable rigidity, ruggedly formed of heavier gauge steel with channels five and a half inches deep, flanges 3 1/4 and 3 inches respectively, and five sturdy cross-members. This frame is tapered at front to provide an unusually short turning radius, and is "low-dropped" to achieve extra low body lines and road security.

The rubber core clutch mentioned above also adds stiffness to clutch engagement. A new progressive starter separates gear engagement and release of starting motor into two successive operations accomplished by one pressure on the starter—a method of decided advantages. The easy starting that results is a fitting beginning to easy operation throughout, such as easy shifting and easy steering with the adjustable-height steering wheel.

New Driving Enjoyment

New vertical radiator shutters, new controlled cooling, thermostatic charging, full-automatic spark and engine-temperature thermometer on instrument panel, all add new ease and enjoyment to winter driving.

And, winter or summer, this new Oldsmobile will be found to possess a roadability positively unequalled . . . steadiness and dependability that are equally matters of enjoyment and safety.

And so the story of this great new Oldsmobile continues through details of engine and chassis to a triumphant climax in its crowning glory—the daringly modern new body by Fisher.

Seven New Creations By Fisher Artist-Engineers

This new Oldsmobile is presented in seven body types: Two-Door and Four-Door Sedans, Landau, Coupe, Sport Coupe, Sport Roadster and Sport Phaeton. All embody the striking style elements heretofore noted, and in addition those rugged structural qualities and invaluable convenience appointments for which these master body-makers are justly famous.

Generous use of fabric beading between metal surfaces prevents body squeaks. Flush door construction, so characteristic of costly cars, is a feature. The windshield is of the Fisher VV type, the parking lock of superior theft-proof design.

Rounding out the whole are equipment items commonly considered "extra," but standard with this Fine Car of Low Price. You will instantly recognize them as extraordinary for their completeness. The list includes rubber-cushioned bumpers, front and rear, rear view mirror, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, engine temperature thermometer on instrument panel, fuel gauge on instrument panel, automatic windshield wiper and rear traffic light.

A Car to Be Proud of

The style and luxury elements now found in this smart car read like the descriptions of expensive cars that everyone has coveted. To begin with there is a longer wheelbase and longer body design . . . an over-all length of 171 inches. Doors are larger, windows wider and lower. The low frame provides that jaunty effect so desirable.

This jaunty effect is further emphasized by new full-crown fenders of sweeping lines and by new, smaller wheels with smart oval spokes and 26 x 5.25 balloon tires.

Ultra-Modern Styling

The body design itself is sensational. We realize that any automobile manufacturer may say this and believe it. But public opinion is too definitely expressed, the modern spirit too unmistakable, to permit of any doubt regarding the popularity of this vigorous, ultra-modern styling. Never has Fisher artistry achieved more refreshing freedom.

Vivid, vibrant colors in enduring finish further the effect. Smart, distinctive touches complete it.

For example, the headlights are of semi-bullet type; the radiator cap is of that smart flat design and the front-end view is deep-radiated with wing-like fender lines, the whole effect being enhanced by vertical radiator shutters.

Exterior polished parts are chromium-plated, exposed nuts and screws cadmium-plated.

New Roominess

The interiors are marked by new roominess and the charm of new, modish upholstery and finishes, as smart as they are rich and tasteful. A high point of beauty is the handsome new instrument panel. All indicators, including fuel and oil gauges and new engine-temperature thermometer, are enclosed under one glass and indirectly illuminated.

The all-black steering wheel is of an attractive design which again reminds one of expensive cars. The sensitive horn button at the center is mounted flush. It operates a new, deep-voiced horn. Also on the wheel are neat hand-accelerator and headlight levers, the latter operating twin-beam headlights with offset parking light.

A General Motors Triumph

Such in effect is this new Oldsmobile—sweepingly new, smart and thrilling. Never have the advantages of General Motors resources, of General Motors research, of General Motors Proving Ground facilities shown more emphatically. Their result is a car which eclipses all former conceptions of value in cars "for the American family." And behind this story of achievement stands the story of a cherished ambition—the story of Oldsmobile's policy pledged to progress.

The builders of this car set out to produce the car the people wanted. And they have done it.

So swift, so smooth, so quiet, so comfortable, so easy to drive and so good-looking is this new Oldsmobile, that you will agree with the man who inspected it and said—

"You can buy a bigger car, but not a better one."

Midland Collegians Win, 42-32, To Even Series With Elks

Benedict Paves Way to Victory With 26 Points

Steelers' Big Center Mainspring in Pennsylvanians' Attack; Third and Final Game to Be Staged Here.

MIDLAND, Pa., March 20.—Led to a glorious victory by Benedict, big Maroon center, Midland Collegians evened their series with the East Liverpool Elks by winning from the Ohio Antlers, 42-32, last night on the Steel City floor.

Deciding battle of the three-game series probably will be played Friday night in the Ohio city, according to Manager Ray Adams of the Antlers, who won the coin toss following last night's scrap. The Ceramics copped off the first game last Tuesday night by a 13-point margin. Guard and Captain Smith Anderson, of the Elks, who was injured Saturday at Toronto, was not in the lineup last night.

Until the final quarter the game was closely fought, with the lead bucketing back and forth between the quint. In the final stanza, however, the Steel City passers took the edge over the Columbiana county five, hooping 12 points while they held the Antlers to a pair of baskets.

Crawford opened the scoring with a short toss through the hoop from the tip-off. Benedict followed through with a score for the Pennsylvanians.

Elks' Five Is Set For Toronto

Larkins, Crawford in Action Here Tomorrow.

Browns News quint, of Toronto, strong enough to conquer the East Liverpool Elks on the Toronto court last week, will find the going tougher when the two teams clash in the second game of their series here tomorrow night.

Manager Ray Adam of the Elks today announced that he had enlisted the basketball services of Dick Larkins, of Ohio State, and Bob Crawford, high school guard.

Larkins played a wonderful game with Bill Powell's team against the World Famous Indians here recently and should deliver just as brilliant a performance with the Elks against the Jefferson countians.

Crawford, who distinguished himself as one of the outstanding high school performers in tournament play, has finished his high school athletic career and, as a result, will be available for duty with the Antlers.

This pair will give the Elks a defense that should need nothing else, coupled with Charles McConville and "Bus" Crawford, regulars on the local squad.

Capt. Smith Anderson's injured hip is not coming along as well as it might and he may not go into tomorrow night's game.

Presbyterian Passers Even Series Count

Trim Catholic Passers in Midland League Clash.

MIDLAND, Pa., March 20.—Presbyterians copped the second game of their championship series with Catholic passers of the Midland church league last night by defeating the Presentation quint, 22-18.

Catholics took the first game of the series. Date and place of the final battle has not been decided by league officials.

Low, Presbyterian center, caged five baskets and a pair of shots from the penalty line. Needs sank three for the Presbyterians.

Schmitt and Migliore each accounted for three hoops for the Catholics.

Presbyterians doubled the score on the Presentation cagers in the opening half, but the Catholic put up a good battle in the closing frame, scoring 10 points to their opponents' six.

Crede Morris crashed out a score of 571 in three drives against the timber last night at Liberty to top the 26 district entries in the opening singles events on the local alleys.

Probably as many more singles contenders will attempt to better Morris' mark when play is resumed this evening. Doubles events will be run off immediately after the singles.

Ted Ganas followed Morris with a score of 533 and Johnny Greene ran third with a 421 count.

Morris also had high single mark of 225.

GIANTS WORRIED ABOUT ALDRIDGE

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 20.—The New York Giants are very much worried over the continued absence of Vic Aldridge, holdout pitcher, as some of the younger hurlers are not coming up to expectations. Walker and Clarkson were given a sweet pasting by the Athletics yesterday, but the Giants finally hammered out a 9 to 3 victory. The teams play here again today.

Nickel Plates Tie With B. & O. In Y Loop Race

Will Clash Thursday for Last Half Title.

Nickel plate passers of the "Y" cage league are tied with the B. & O. for the second half championship as a result of their forfeit win over the C. & P. quint last night.

Both the B. & O. and the Plates have won five and lost one apiece with last night's scheduled game the final tilt of the second half.

To determine supremacy for the second half, the Nickel Plates will tangle with the B. & O. in an extra game on Thursday night.

The Plates won the first half title. Therefore, if they conquer the B. & O. in the Thursday battle, hostilities will be over for the present season. But if the B. & O. cops, then a series will be necessary between the first and the second half winners for the season's championship.

EUROPEAN TITLE HOLDERS BATTLE

NEW YORK, March 19.—A quick knockout is predicted in the ten-round bout here tonight between Phil Scott, English heavyweight champion, and Pierre Charles, Belgian champion. Both fighters are sluggers who leave themselves wide open.

It pays to be persistent. Cleo Farrar, who has been defeated in eight out of 11 starts in the Club parlors three-cushion billiard tourney to date, but who has kept steadily plugging along, last night turned in a great performance to down Willard Webber, the league leader, by a count of 25 to 21.

BOXERS MEET IN FLOOD BENEFIT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Final arrangements for the boxing show to be staged here next Friday for the benefit of flood sufferers in the Santa Clara river valley have been completed, it was announced today.

The headline attraction will be a bout between "King" Tut, lightweight of Minneapolis, and "Doc" Snell of Tacoma, Wash. "California" Joe Lynch, featherweight, is expected to arrive in San Francisco today to begin training for his four-round contest with Frankie Kliek, local battler. Mickey Cohen of Denver will do battle with Mike O'Dowd, Ohio featherweight, on the same card.

ROBIN PITCHERS SUBDUED PHILLIES

TAMPA, Fla., March 20.—Although their hitting strength remains uncertain, the Brooklyn Robins are as strong as ever in pitching. Clark, El-Hott and Ehrhardt had little difficulty in subduing the Phillies, 3 to 1, at Winter Haven yesterday. Today the Robins will take on the Senators here.

Tourney Competition To Be Faster This Year

Independents Will Vie With Collegians; Pittsburgh Knickerbockers Rate as Formidable Entry.

What with rumors of wholesale collegiate entries from various points in the district, the aggregation that wins this year's Tri-State district amateur tournament here on March 30-31 is going to have a lot of basketball on its hands before it gets through.

But, while considering the possibilities of this and the other collegiate outfit, it might be well also to cast an appraising glance at some of the independents who are contemplating forays on the massive collection of trophies and medals that will be distributed among the various contending clubs.

It will be remembered that it was an unheralded, unknown, "dark-horse" independent gang that waded through scholastic and collegiate combines here last year to capture the championship. Tony Paulsey and his Campbell Merchants upset competition right and left with just a gang of "sandlotters" who played basketball during the two days of the tourney last year as though their very lives depended on it. And some of the squads made up of college stars have learned a lesson from that tourney.

FALCONS DEFEAT M. E. QUINT, 35-33

Last evening on the M. E. court the Falcon club defeated the M. E. Juniors, 35 to 33. The M. E. led, 13-2 at the first quarter, but the last three quarters was a nip and tuck affair. English and Wright for the Falcons and Brant and Lane for the M. E.'s were high scorers.

Bucs Natural Standout In National League Race Again

Home Run Twins Whiff Hard at Southern Air

Ruth, Gehrig Headline Act Fails to Click Before Southern Public; Horsehide Eludes Great Swatters' Bats.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 20.—For one reason or other, probably both, the headline act of Ruth and Gehrig is not going over with our southern public these days. The latter, in fact, were beginning to wonder rather audibly, as I was gracing the scene, just what it was all about as it watched the mighty pair swing lustily but to slight effect. There probably are few visions less inspiring than that of a home run hitter hitting terrific drives too deep for the catcher to handle.

That, anyhow, is what I left Herman Ruth and Henry Louis Gehrig doing and subsequent advice from the south have neglected to make note of any worthy change in the program. The boys apparently are continuing to hit them well out of the catcher's reach.

The source of Herman's ineptitude is not far to seek, as the pork butcher said to Mrs. Mahaffey. Herman simply tried to do too much with too little time at his disposal. He happens to be physically subnormal at the moment. Gehrig's case, they say, is the usual one with young men who come into overnight acclaim.

In either case and both, the difficulty may be regarded as a temporary one. Herman being subject to fits of physical despondency and Louis being young enough to recover in due time. But, at that, the general idea among American league men is that both of them can't and won't repeat their late hitting of the 1927 season.

This is one of the matters that gives Ernest S. Barnard cause to hope for a closer race. Mr. Barnard is something of a novice at hoping, having just entered into the spirit of the thing for the first time this year. But, then, he is being president of the American league for the first time this year and naturally the necessity of hoping in public finds him a bit off in his timing or something.

Another reason quoted as giving the American league cause to view the future with some optimism is the belief, current among rival managers, that the Yanks won't get the pitching they knew in 1927. One of the claims is that Willy Moore's sinker may come to the point where it will strike out—not out—terms of easy familiarity with the average bat. They say it is not written that his delivery can dumbfound the hitters for the rest of their natural lives.

The absence of Urban Shocker, a good spring pitcher, and his consequential neglect to attain condition also points to a lack of pitching effectiveness on the Yanks' part, they say. This claim may or may not be borne out in full, as they said about the man who was carried from the bar. But it does indicate that the American league is rich in presidential material. All any man who can hope like this needs is a roll top desk, a box of cigars and a key to the vinegar.

Rate Jackson Giant Star as Coming Hitter

But He'll Never Take Ruth's Place, Opines McGraw.

TAMPA, Fla., March 20.—Ty Cobb and John J. McGraw have been agreeing to disagree over a long period of years, on almost every point in life's pin cushion, the probable exception numbering, in all, one. I think they both agree that Ty Cobb was and is still quite a ball player. Of recent years, too, both have mellowed to the extent that no longer do they deem it good deportment to engage in glaring contests at ten paces. Instead, they shake hands like little gentlemen, ask about the family and Aunt Susie, talk the small talk of the usual hotel lobby meeting and altogether comport themselves according to the book. But that hasn't made them a couple of companions, either.

New Home Run Man. The other day, Cobb was quoted as declaring that the successor to Babe Ruth as a home run hitter already was in the offing and that he didn't mean Louis Gehrig. The man he is supposed to have named is Travis Jackson.

This was good for an SOS in the short code, two short and one long, from our Mr. McGraw, in spite of the fact that Jackson is his star shortstop, field captain and favorite ball player. John, as a matter of fact, thinks so little of the idea that he seriously doubts that Cobb actually expressed it. No man, he says in effect, can replace Ruth unless he is a left hand hitter.

"Nearly all our parks are so constructed that the left field bleachers are further away from the plate than are the right field," McGraw declared. "This alone would stop Jackson or any other right hand hitter from even approaching Ruth's home run totals."

A Great Hitter. "Jackson, in fact, is a dead left field hitter, which eliminates him automatically, even if he had Ruth's power behind his drives, which he hasn't. However, I'll say this for Jackson: He hits a tremendous ball for a man of his comparatively light poundage and he probably does so with less effort than any man in the game. He is a wrist hitter of the old school and when he gets hold of one, with that snap and leverage of his, the ball surely starts going and almost forgets to stop."

"But another Ruth? Hardly. Jackson is one of the finest ball players I've ever seen but that sort of thing isn't in his line."

'Near Top' Is Tribe's 1928 Aim

Evans Expects to Have Better Club Than Last Year.

NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—The present aim of the new management of the Cleveland American league baseball club is to keep the team at or near the top of the junior circuit, each season.

This hope was revealed by Vice President and General Manager Billy Evans, during his recent visit to the Indians' spring training camp here. "Our big aim," Evans declared, "is to build up to the point where we can stay at or near the top all the time, with good young fellows coming up year by year to replace the aging veterans. I believe we've made a mighty good start toward that objective."

See Better Team.

"We have not tried to deceive the Cleveland fans with promises of a pennant winner this season. However, we want to have a better club than Cleveland had last year, of course."

Evans stated that the tribe management had abandoned the project of buying a Class A or Class B league baseball club to serve as a farm at least for the time being.

"We have already fairly satisfactory working relations with some good clubs," the former umpire said. "New Orleans and Terre Haute for example."

Evans stressed the fact that several "smart" minor league managers had recognized the recruit talent in camp, as confirming his opinion that Cleveland "has on the present squad a pretty good ball club for some years to come."

Youthful Pitchers.

Among the most sought after members of the Indian squad training here are a group of youthful pitchers—Wesley Farrell, Verne Underhill, Otis Perry, Earl Collier, and Mel Harder. Shortstop Jonah Goldman, formerly of Syracuse university; infielders Eddie Montague and Dan Jessee; outfielders John Gill and Catcher Richard "Dick" Stahlman.

Applicants for the tribe's surplus talent probably will be compelled to wait until about the middle of June, it was said, as that is the time when the roster must be cut to the legal limit of 25 men.

Manager Roger Peckinpaugh expects to carry thirty men until the time mentioned, he declared.

THREE INDIAN REGULARS HURT

NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—Three Cleveland regulars today were nursing injuries received in Monday's practice session. Shortstop Joe Sewell was hit in the face by a batted ball and sustained a split lip. Gob Buckeye and Joe Shaute, pitchers, were hit on the foot and both will limp for a day or two.

DUNDEE, HUDKINS MATCH BREWING

NEW YORK, March 20.—Joe Dundee will defend his welterweight title against Ace Hudkins at Madison Square Garden here either on April 30 or May 4. These tentative dates were set by Matchmaker Jess McMahon after Dundee and his manager, Max Waxman, had been reinstated by the New York state athletic commission.

'PUT IT WHERE THEY CAN'T MURDER IT,' VET'S ADVICE TO YOUNGSTERS

IN EVERY big league training camp in southern climes there are young, husky and ambitious baseball pitchers anxious to make the grade. They realize fully that every time they go out there on the mound to pitch to their fellow players—only in practice, it's true—that an eagle-eyed manager is absorbing every move.

"What's the secret of success in pitching?" is a question asked thousands of times by rookies trying to gain the "Big Top" teams.

No one is better qualified to answer than the veteran pitcher Jack Quinn of the Philadelphia "Athletics." And here is his reply:

"Put it where they can't murder it." Quinn knows whereof he speaks. He is entering his twenty-fifth year on the professional diamond. Up and down from the majors to the minors he has slid and climbed. No big league pitcher has had such a varied career.

He opened in 1903 in the Pennsylvania State League. He bounced around with minor league teams in the South until 1909, when he mounted to the American League.

Three years later found him back in an International League uniform, but the next year the "Braves" of the National League claimed him. Another drop carried him down to Federal and Pacific Coast aggregations, but 1918 found him with the "White Sox," later to be taken by the Yankees, where he remained three years more.

The Rex Sox had him for another trio of seasons until the middle of 1925, when he was waived to the Athletics.

Now at the beginning of 1928 Jack Quinn, many times considered a total "flop" in baseball, is again wearing an American League uniform. Those who have seen him work out this Spring say that his good right arm is equal to a few more seasons.

That is something of a record—to be entering the quarter century of big league pitching. No wonder his advice to youngsters should be taken seriously.

Shade's Purse Held up After Chicago Bout

Must Explain Conduct to Ring Commission.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Dave Shade, the California middleweight, was being criticized today for his tactics against Del Fontaine, the Canadian, in their ten-round bout at White City last night.

Shade won the decision easily, but there were many in the house, including members of the boxing commission, who believed the Californian could have ended the fight in almost any round he chose.

Commissioner Samuel Luzzo declared that Shade's purse would be held up and that the fighter would be summoned before the commission today to explain his conduct. The Canadian was a match for Shade. To many it was apparent that the Californian "carried" Fontaine through the latter rounds.

Lose "Kiky" Cuyler But Boost Infield Strength

Consider Grimes-Aldridge Deal gain; Other Hurlers Ready; Barnhart, Comorosky Battle for Outfield Berth.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the thirteenth of a series of articles by the International News Service, dealing with developments in various major league training camps. Other articles of the series will follow.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Pretty much pre-determined in personnel before ever the club left Pittsburgh for its spring conditioning at Paso Robles, the champion Pirates, exhibiting in this city today, are a natural stand-out in National league company.

Even the four successive defeats they suffered at the Yankees' hands in the world series and the five straight reverses their own Yannigans handed them this spring have failed to dissipate the impression that Donle Bush's club will run no worse than one-two at the end of the season.

Barring Kiki Cuyler, who sat on the bench for most of the 1927 season, the Pirates lost nothing from their championship club and it gained considerable strength on the right side of the infield through the acquisition of "Sparky" Adams from the Cubs.

That statement just about tells the story of the 1928 Pirates. Their only real weakness last year was at first and second bases, Joe Harris having slowed up and George Grantham being an indifferent keystoner. With Adams on second, Grantham has been sent to first base, where he is much more effective on defense.

The rest of the club is pretty much as it was when the last play of the world series was over. It considers that it pulled a fast one in getting Burleigh Grimes from the Giants for Vic Aldridge but otherwise the pitching staff is unchanged. Its regulars in addition to Grimes are Carmen Hill and Lee Meadows, the bifocal twins; Ray Kremer, due for a better year if he can escape further injuries, and John Miljus, the Californian who helped pitch the club into the pennant late last year.

Earl Smith and Johnny Gooch are back to do the catching. This means that they are satisfactory to Bush, although some critics feel that this position represents a possible weakness.

The staunch left side of the Pirate infield, presented by Glen Wright and Pie Traynor will remain, perforce, as is, Joe Cronin, at present in his home town here, will be carried for utility roles.

That outfield, now that Cuyler has gone his unlamented way, also is a pre-determined affair, at least in two positions. They are those occupied by the Waners, Paul and Lloyd. For the other spot, Clyde Barnhart, 1927 regular, is having a merry battle with Adam Comorosky, back again from Wichita and Swoyersville, Pa.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

"If it's only one life tonight we'll be in luck!" he said grimly. "I've a bigger job on my hands than your five Chinamen and the time to give them a second thought. It's a question now, and touch-and-go, for every last soul aboard here." He caught Bob Kingsley's arm, and led the way quickly to the starboard end of the bridge. "Do you see that?" he demanded tersely—and flung a pointing hand to leeward.

Bob Kingsley stared. The darkness was markedly accentuated at the horizon line. A sailor himself, his trained eye estimated the distance at between two and three miles. Lord, of course! Nearer the ship, perhaps, three-quarters of the way in, there was a thin continuous white line, distinct from the intermittent breaking crests of the waves that lay between. Like spume, it was.

He swam swiftly around on the Monotah's command.

"That's the Baalu Reef!" he exclaimed. "Oh!" ejaculated Captain Karler, with a curious stare. "So you know that do you?" "I know we're not far off Aoru, so I ought to know it's the Baalu," Bob Kingsley answered. "I've sailed this coast since I was a kid."

"Then you know that the reef extends for miles," said the skipper; "and, knowing the Baalu for what it is, you'll understand that if we're piled on it in this sea we're as good as gone."

Bob Kingsley leaned closer toward the other, staring questioningly into the captain's face. "But I don't understand," he said. "I don't understand why we should pile on it. You're on your course, aren't you?—and we're a good mile and a half at least of deep water between us."

"Aye," said Captain Karler, with a bitter smile, "too deep for any anchor to find bottom." A sudden ominous quiet came into his voice. "You heard the engines race a few minutes ago, didn't you? Well, the propeller's gone—with the Baalu Reef close aboard to leeward in a gale. That's all."

Bob Kingsley's hand tightened on the bridge rail.

"Good God!" he said under his breath.

The skipper spoke again—in the same ominously quiet tones:

"Our only chance is to claw to windward with sail—and we're no sailboat. What lots of rag we can show, we're bending now—and I've no men for your Chinamen, Mr. Moore, very last one of the crew is working for the lives of all of us. The chap you're talking about will have to take his chance. I only hope to God it won't be every man and woman aboard here for himself or herself before it's over!"

Captain Karler turned abruptly away—and as abruptly came back again.

"Keep what I've said to yourself," he cautioned. "There is nothing to be gained by alarming the passengers as yet; especially the native passengers—they might get out of hand. You understand?"

Bob Kingsley nodded.

"I understand," he said soberly.

Captain Karler turned away again, and this time re-joined the mate at the other end of the bridge; but for a moment Bob Kingsley did not move. His eyes were on that thin, almost wraith-like line of white to leeward and on the tumbling waters that lay between. It seemed as though suddenly the whole scene had shifted. A few minutes ago the gale that was blowing and the heavy sea that was running had not given him the slightest concern; now there seemed to be an anger in the sea and in the night that hoded ill—and it seemed that the waves had increased in height and turbulence, and that the wind was fiercer in its role of task-master as it lashed the sea with frenzied gusts like blows from a slave-driver's whip, as it were, that mercilessly flogged and flogged its demand for the maximum of effort and activity. The Monotah practically helpless was quite another. Undoubtedly the ship was making leeway fast. It was the flip of a coin. He was quite as well aware of that now as Captain Karler was.

With a sort of fatalistic shrug of his shoulders, he turned away from the rail, and went down the bridge ladder to the boat deck. It would be a mess of course, a rather nasty one, if anything happened—the natives were likely to be deucedly unpleasant—would probably run amuck, as a matter of fact. Well, there was nothing to be done so far as that was concerned but wait and see. Captain Karler evidently knew his job, and was a cool-headed beggar to boot. If any man could pull the Monotah through, Captain Karler could—that was all there was to that end of it.

Meanwhile there were the five Chinamen.

Bob Kingsley halted abruptly. It was rather queer that his mind should have swung around to that again, wasn't it? The Chinamen, and the two white gods, and retribution for the murder of his uncle, were all rather insignificant now, weren't they, in view of the fact that the chances were a lot better the even that the Baalu Reef would very definitely and very miserably put an end to all that and everything else before daybreak? Why, then, should these things intrude themselves at such a time as this? From boyhood he had sailed the seas, and there was no delusion in his mind as to the imminent peril in which the Monotah stood. If the ship couldn't win her way free, and the boats were lowered before she struck, the boats would merely be driven on the reefs and smashed to matchwood—and there was little better chance after the Monotah struck. The Baalu wasn't one reef—it was many reefs. And in between the reefs with the water boiling and seething like some hell's cauldron, there was little likelihood that any boat could live. In the most literal sense of the term, then, he and everyone else on board were facing death, which, if it came, would not be long delayed. And yet his mind reverted to other matters, and he seemed to be almost unmoved. Why was it? Was he a superman who did not fear death, who was even callous and indifferent to it? He shook his head. He was normal enough in that respect surely! He could not say that he was unafraid of death any more than any other man could—and certainly he had no desire to die. Well, then—what? There was nothing, no single thing he could do to avert the calamity if calamity there was to be, everything that could be done was being done by the ship's officers and crew—but one didn't go into a blue funk over it in the meantime, did one? No earthly use in that! A faint smile twisted at his lips. Strange self-analysis!

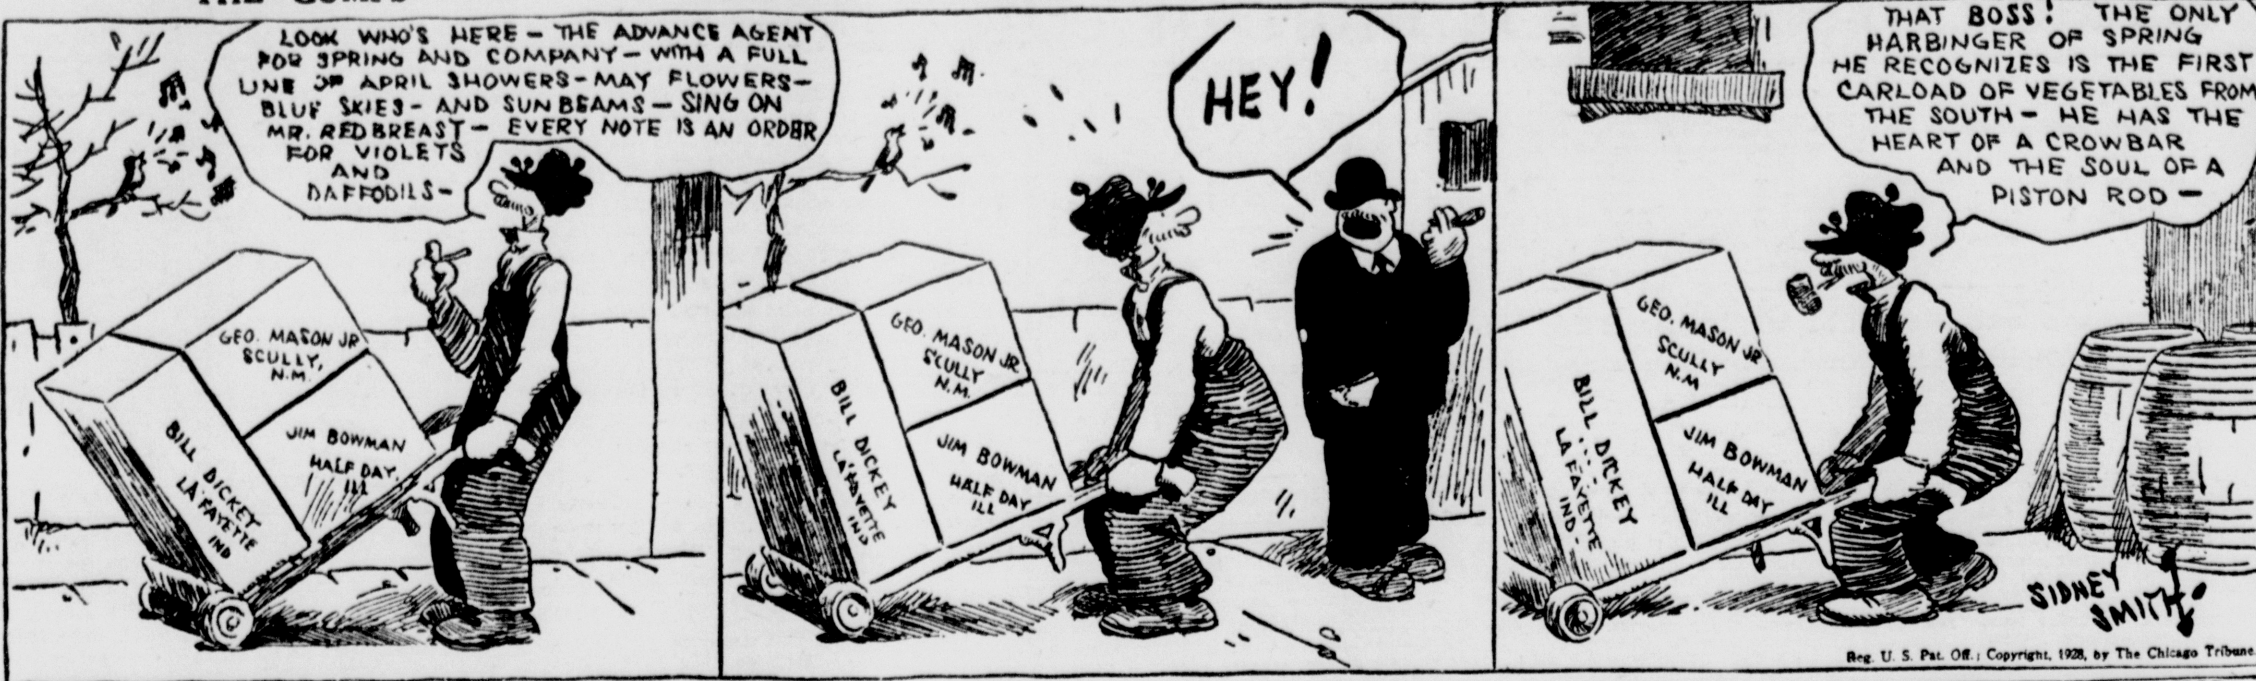

Why not those Chinamen, then? There might be no disaster, and he might have the luck to block their filthy game on his own—in which case some poor devil would see the sun rise again after all! A new thought flashed through his mind. Perhaps he might enlist some help other than that of the ship's personnel until such time as either the Chinamen, their proposed victim, himself, and everybody else were beyond help of any kind, or until the Monotah had won through and Captain Karler could take a hand in the game. No—that wouldn't do. There wasn't anybody. There were only three first-class passengers besides himself and including Verna Lyle. The girl was naturally out of it. And of the two male passengers, one was a fussy little old gentleman near seventy who would have been terrified out of his wits at the bare hint of a possible fracas; the other was a chap of slyglot tongue and of God knew what nationality, who came from Java and was ponderously drunk. The man's consumption of gin and bitters had been enormous and relentless. Between his fat and his gin an exit or entrance through his state-room door was at all times a feat. The native passengers he, Bob Kingsley, did not for an instant consider—to secure any of them as allies with his limited vocabulary and their several languages was hopeless—it would take him half the night to explain what he wanted, and even then he had but slight assurance that any of them would be willing to meddle in any affair where there was a chance of having a knife stuck into their own skins!

All right, then! The chances were five to one—five against one that he would be able to pick out and keep his eye on the lottery-drawn executioner rather than on one of the other four! But the odds were not of his making—he could only accept them. And he would!

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

Glandular Extracts In Effective New Modern Tonic

MODERN science has developed a new kind of tonic in highly concentrated tablet form which contains glandular extracts. This well-balanced formula gives you the double value of vegetable tonic agents and glandular extracts. Thousands now use this modern tonic. Leading druggists throughout America recommend it. Make this test yourself today. Secure an original and genuine package of Morex (formerly called Glandogen) and take two tablets three times a day for ten days. See if you don't feel better in every way. Mathews Cut Rate Store will supply you.

Are you a walking septic tank?

He is

Auto-intoxication —our worst enemy

A septic tank is a storehouse for putrefying material. When food is not properly eliminated from the digestive system, it becomes clogged in the intestines and also starts to putrefy. Then poisons form, which spread through the whole body and hamper the work of all the other organs.

This auto-intoxication, or self-poisoning as it is commonly called, leads to many distressing ailments. The complexion breaks out. The face and eyes look old and tired. Headaches come. The nerves are on edge. The appetite is poor.

And very often, if neglected, self-poisoning may lead to such serious diseases as Gall stone formations, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Appendicitis, High Blood Pressure and Premature Old Age.

Yet prominent specialists now say

Why let your body be a storehouse for health-robbing intestinal poisons? Read how prominent specialists on digestive ailments restores vigorous pep and energy to nervous, run-down bodies—through new, safe, scientific treatment.

There's no need to suffer from auto-intoxication. The simplest way to remedy this trouble is to get at its real cause—the liver.

The liver is the largest and most important gland of the body. If the liver fails to yield a normal supply of liquid bile, the pancreas also fails to supply its important digestive fluid. When this occurs, the food we eat accumulates in the intestines—undigested. Then comes putrefaction—followed by its toxic poisons and millions of disease-breeding germs—and then—AUTO-INTOXICATION.

Nature's own remedy For auto-intoxication victims, physicians everywhere are advising a wonderfully effective new remedy—Zilatone.

Zilatone is designed to correct and banish constipation troubles—by supplying the identical elements which Nature herself provides to keep us healthy and vigorous. Zilatone cleanses the system gently and thoroughly. It activates and regulates the stomach, liver, pancreas, gall bladder and bowels—throughout. It is truly named—NATURE'S OWN HEALTH BUILDER.

Zilatone is sold on a money-back guarantee by most all druggists in your neighborhood. Get Zilatone today.
